SUBJECT : Community Long-Range Planning Proposal - RMS

1. Recently, an Intelligence Community Working Group was established by RMS to assess the collection environment in the 1990's. This effort has goals similar to our own internal long-range planning effort. We have just received the first draft of a proposed methodology for the Community effort with a request for suggestions to improve the outline and for estimates of the resources our organization would need to implement the effort as proposed.

2. In order to develop the CIA response to this request, I am providing a copy of the Community proposal for your review and comment. Your response is needed by Noon, 14 November 1980. With regard to estimating the resource (time) requirements, we should keep in mind the direct applicability of much of the material from our own effort.
